GALWAY TO ATHLONE NATIONAL CYCLEWAY SCHEME

Public Consultation No.1

Project Vision

The vision for the project is to develop a world class trail, from Galway to Athlone, that will complete the Galway to Dublin route, which is of a scale and singularity that will allow Ireland to tap into the growing tourism market for cycling. It will be scenic, sustainable, be a strategic link, with lots to see and do, be substantially segregated from motor traffic and welcome a wide variety of users. It will be developed in co-operation with local communities and offer real benefits to them.

Progress to Date

The Project was paused in 2015 following identification of a preferred route corridor. It is now restarting and the project is to be progressed from a clean slate, with no route corridor favoured at this stage.

A dedicated Project Office has been established in Ballinasloe, where the Consultants and Project Liaison Officers from Galway, Roscommon and Westmeath County Councils will be available to meet landowners and the public.

Meetings at the Project Office are strictly by appointment due to the COVID -19 Restrictions.

Have your say

We would like to hear your views on the project at this stage

This can include your opinion on the

- need for the project,
- possible routes that should be considered,
- locations, attractions or facilities in your locality that could be attractive to cycleway users, or would benefit from a cycleway,
- constraints or barriers to a cycleway in your area,
- any concerns or issues you may have at this stage.

A series of public consultations will be held between the 10th and 14th August, where you may meet members of the team and discuss the project or make a submission or observation. Maps of the study area will be on display. No route corridors are proposed at this stage.

1 BACKGROUND

1.1 Introduction

This document presents the Project Brief for the Galway to Athlone Castle National Cycleway Scheme.

The purpose of the Project Brief is to outline the need for the scheme, to set the objectives of the project and to outline relevant performance targets for the project. It considers the existing and likely future problems and reports on the options that have been considered. It also provides a history of the development of the project.

This document is developed in accordance with the requirements of Transport Infrastructure Ireland (TII) Project Appraisal Guidelines (PAG Unit 3.0: Project Brief).

This scheme is part of the Galway to Dublin Cycleway which is a long-distance recreational trail, providing walkers, commuters and leisure cyclists a corridor linking the two major cities, as shown indicatively in Figure 1.1 below.

1.2 Overview of the Dublin Galway Cycleway

1.2.1 Project Vision

The vision for the project is to develop a world class cycle and walking trail, safe and accessible for all users, from Galway to Athlone, completing the Galway to Dublin route. It will be of a scale and with a unique character that will allow Ireland to tap into the growing tourism market for cycling. It will be scenic, sustainable, be a strategic link, with lots to see and do, be substantially segregated from motor traffic and welcome a wide variety of users. It will be developed in co-operation with local communities and offer real benefits to them.

The Cycleway will facilitate part of the Eurovelo network of long-distance cycling routes in Europe, traversing from West to East (Galway to Moscow), with the Galway to Athlone section as the most western portion of the proposed Capitals Routes of international appeal (Figure 1.4 below).

It is planned that the Galway to Dublin Cycleway will cater for low speed, family-oriented cycling activities, with short daily distances and linkages to tourism activities along the way. This route will connect with the Atlantic Coast Route, which is expected to cater for users looking for longer distances and a more challenging cycling experience.

The primary towns and villages within the study area include Oranmore, Clarinbridge, Athenry, Craughwell, Loughrea, Ballinasloe, Tuam, Gort, Portumna, Kinvarra and Shannonbridge. The existing infrastructure includes the Galway to Dublin Railway Line, the M6 Motorway, the R446 (old N6) and other Local Road networks.

The topography of the area is relatively low lying and flat with the majority of land cover consisting of farmland and peat bog. There are attractive environmental features such as bogs, forests, rivers and streams. Large water bodies include Lough Rea, the Rivers Shannon and Suck, with a number of other tributaries and rivers that discharge to the marine environment at Oranmore and Clarinbridge. The area has a wide range of archaeological monuments and historical buildings. This network of hydrological, ecological and archaeological sites within the corridor will offer a unique and tranquil experience to Cycleway users, through connecting them with this natural and historical environment.

1.3 History of the Scheme

The National Galway to Dublin Cycleway project commenced in 2013, when TII provided funding for the planning and design of the section between Galway and Maynooth. Westmeath County Council is the lead local authority working in partnership with Galway City, Galway, Roscommon, Meath and Kildare local authorities.

The Galway to Athlone section extends from Ballyloughane, in Galway City to Athlone Castle. The development of this section of the Cycleway was paused following the selection of an emerging preferred route corridor in October 2015, due to local landowner opposition. The main reasons cited by landowners for opposition to the project was the lack of public consultation and the proposed use of a CPO to acquire lands.

The development of the Cycleway between Galway City centre and Ballyloughane is being undertaken by the NTA and Galway City Council as a separate project.

The development of the Maynooth to Dublin city centre section is being undertaken by the NTA and Dublin local authorities.

The 107km section between Whitegates Athlone and Maynooth, which runs along an old railway line and the Royal Canal, is now open to the public.

The section from Athlone Castle to Whitegates which includes a new Cycleway bridge across the River Shannon, is expected to be complete in 2022.

1.4 Previous Studies

ROD and AECOM were commissioned in 2014 to prepare a corridor selection report for the Cycleway between Galway and Maynooth. The objective was a fully segregated off-road cycleway. The State-owned lands along the Royal Canal between Maynooth and Mullingar and the disused railway line between Mullingar and Athlone were chosen and an emerging preferred route corridor was selected between Athlone and Galway. A Business Case was also developed to establish a rationale for the full length of the Cycleway from Galway to Dublin.

A Strategic Environmental Assessment, an Appropriate Assessment and a Natura Impact Study for the Dublin to Galway Cycleway were completed by DTTaS in 2016. The notice for adoption of the SEA was published in March 2017.

2 NEED FOR THE SCHEME

2.1 Overview

The development of greenways and cycleways has become increasingly popular on the island of Ireland in recent years with a significant number of projects having been developed driven primarily by local interests.

Tourism policy now recognises the importance of investing in the visitor experience in order to continue to grow tourism including investment in facilities for visitor activities such as greenways and other outdoor recreational activities.

Greenways not only provide opportunities for active travel and recreation in the localities along their routes, but they can also provide economic, social, environmental and health benefits.

In 2013, market research consultants were commissioned by Fáilte Ireland to undertake a Target Cycling Market Survey in Germany, Britain, Netherlands and France. The objectives were to:

- Understand the scale of potential for cycling holidays in Ireland by overseas visitors;
- Investigate the key requirements of the target market for cycling holidays; and
- Understand the characteristics of the target cycling market.

The research identified a core potential market of 19.5 million people with the largest segment from Germany. The key requirements of the target market both internationally and domestically were that the Cycleway would run through scenic landscapes, offer traffic free cycling and offer a high standard of safety.

More than 15,000 online surveys were taken with a representative sample of respondents from the targeted markets. Also, since this market research conducted in 2013, it was noted that there has been a significant increase of oversea visitors engaged in walking and cycling activities whilst on holiday in Ireland. According to Fáilte Ireland tourist participation in walking and cycling activities has risen to 2.43 million people in 2018, representing a significant rise from figures recorded in 2013. These figures provide valuable information to support the need for the scheme.

Results from Fáilte Ireland research indicates that there is a growing market for a Galway to Athlone (Dublin) Cycleway, and that a demand has been established. This section highlights how the existing infrastructure currently in place facilitates such a need.

2.2 Existing Infrastructure and Cycleway Network

Galway and Athlone are connected by the M6 Motorway and the R446 (formerly the N6) road. There are other Primary, Regional and Local Roads, linking towns and villages such as Oranmore, Clarinbridge, Athenry, Craughwell, Loughrea, Ballinasloe, Tuam, Gort, Portumna and Shannonbridge.

The Galway to Dublin rail line links Galway and Athlone. There is also an active railway from Athenry to Limerick and a disused line from Athenry to Tuam. A disassembled line also exists from Attymon to close to Kiltullagh.

There are no dedicated cycle lanes in the area, other than a limited network of cycle lanes in the vicinity of urban areas such as Galway and Athlone. All cycling in the area is ‘on road’.

The Green Heartlands Cycle Route and Clonmacnoise Cycle Loop are the only two existing cycle trails identified in the area. They are not fully segregated from traffic and use the existing Local Road Network. Two attractive walking trails also exist in the vicinity of Shannonbridge that start at the fortification and continue along the banks of the west side of the River Shannon.

2.3 Existing Journey Times

Cycle journey times in the area are presumed to be normal, with no specific data available for those using on road routes.

2.4 Existing Traffic Conditions

Vehicular traffic flows within the corridor are primarily concentrated on the M6 Motorway and the R446. Both routes have high traffic volumes with lower volumes generally dispersed between Regional and Local Road Network. Some Local Tertiary and Forest Roads have very low volumes of traffic.

The Old Rail Trail Greenway at the Whitegates counter in Athlone recorded a daily flow of over 900 users (cyclists and walkers) in 2019 with an annual usage of over 330,000 Greenway users (see Figure 2.1). This includes both leisure and commuter walkers/cyclists. The Old Rail Trail Greenway recorded approximately 80,000 Greenway users annually outside of Mullingar. It's likely that a significantly higher number use the facility in the immediate environs of Mullingar. Currently there are no counters or cyclist data available to indicate volumes between Galway and Athlone.

2.5 Existing Quality of Service for Cyclists

The Quality of Service for cycleways, as set out in National Cycle Manual is determined through the five needs of a cyclist. There are very few existing cycle facilities between Galway and Athlone, as outlined in Section 2.2, causing significant conflict between motorists and cyclists.

The five needs of cyclists are summarised under the five headings below.

2.5.1 Safety

Cycle networks need to be safe with a good quality surface and adequate segregation in place to avoid any conflicts. Any perception of a lack of safety for users could act as a deterrent to cyclists. There are existing road safety issues for cyclists between Galway and Athlone, predominantly caused by a lack of suitable cycle infrastructure and no/limited segregation.

2.5.2 Coherence

Cycle networks should be logical and continuous with links to main destination centres. Continuity of the route is important on existing infrastructure through junctions, with clear and obvious layouts for cyclists. The level of coherence for cyclists is low between Galway and Athlone with very few dedicated cycle facilities in place.

2.5.3 Directness

Cycle networks for commuters need to be as direct as possible with minimal delays or detours. A positive advantage in terms of journey times should be clear when compared to other modes of transport. For leisure cyclists, this is much less important. There are direct but unsegregated links for cyclists between Galway and Athlone using the National Road Network.

2.5.4 Attractiveness

The environment along a cycle route should be interesting and attractive for both commuter and leisure cyclists. Ancillary facilities such as shelters are important to avoid over exposure to the elements for cyclists. Litter control and continual maintenance to ensure the route is fully clear of debris along with adequate lighting (where needed) are also important factors in providing an attractive route for cyclists. The environment and scenery between Galway and Athlone is attractive but there are no dedicated ancillary facilities in place for cyclists. Safety issues with the existing road network also make the route unattractive for cyclists.

2.5.5 Comfort

Anything that causes discomfort, or a disproportionate amount of effort is likely to result in a cycle facility not being used. Sufficient cycling comfort is achieved through providing effective widths, gradients, drainage and a smooth surface that has minimal interaction with motorists. The level of comfort for cyclists between Galway and Athlone currently is low without any segregation from motorists.

2.6 Existing Road Safety Issues

According to Fáilte Ireland's Strategy for the Development of Irish Cycle Tourism in 2007, it was found that cycling on Irish roads is not perceived to be safe, particularly where cyclists face dangerous bends, fast cars, intimidating HGVs, high traffic volumes and high speeds.

There are road safety issues for cyclists between Galway and Athlone, predominantly caused by a lack of suitable cycle infrastructure and limited segregation. According to RSA statistics from 2005 to 2016, a total of 7 fatal, 24 serious and 193 minor collisions have occurred for on-road cyclists within the four counties of this scheme between Galway and Athlone, as shown in Table 2.1 below.

Table 2.1 – On Road Cyclist Collisions (RSA Statistics: 2005 - 2016)

Collision Type	Galway	Roscommon	Westmeath	Offaly	Total
Minor	126	10	39	18	193
Serious	18	2	3	1	24
Fatal	3	0	1	3	7
Total	147	12	43	22	224

While these accident statistics are useful, it would be expected that accident rates would increase significantly if there was a very large increase in the volume of tourist cycling on the existing road network. This is a result of the highlighted risk of conflict and collision on non-segregated cycling facilities.

2.7 Need for the Scheme

The Target Cycling Market survey conducted by Fáilte Ireland shows that here is significant demand for cycle tourism in Ireland, including from international tourists. These tourists desire Cycleway routes through attractive landscapes that have substantial off-road segregation with lots to see and do. This tourism market nationally and internationally has the potential to generate significant revenue.

While the primary need for the route is a tourist amenity and income generation for those along the route, the scheme can also facilitate some commuter cyclists as it connects a number of urban centres. A safe and segregated Cycleway close to employment centres and schools and colleges would be very attractive to those who wish to cycle to work and students.

The region between Athlone and Galway is predominantly rural, with limited local employment opportunities and tourist enterprises. A large new tourism product, such as a cycleway presents a good opportunity to increase local employment opportunities within the rural communities of the region.

There is clear evidence that there is a market for the Galway to Athlone Cycleway and that there is a need for the scheme.

3 STRATEGIC FIT AND PRIORITY

3.1 Overview

This section outlines policies relevant to the development of the Galway to Athlone Cycleway. A summary is given below of the relevance of both Irish and European policies to this scheme, along with potential implications for the project.

3.2 European Policy Context

3.2.1 The European Cycle Route Network Eurovelo

Eurovelo is a European Network of long-distance Cycling Routes that promotes a sustainable form of cycle tourism in Europe. Its planned that the Galway to Athlone Castle Cycleway will facilitate the Eurovelo Capitals Route. The Eurovelo study issued in 2012, by the European Parliament's Committee on Transport and Tourism, incorporated existing and planned cycle routes into a single European network, as shown in Figure 3.1, below.

This study highlights the key reasons for cycling to be for health, leisure and educational reasons. It determined that the key characteristics of a long-distance cycle route are safety, ease of use, route variety and the availability of accommodation / catering facilities. This aligns with the market research conducted by Fáilte Ireland (section 3.3) and similarly the National Cycle Manual, in relation to the key principles of cycle corridor development. The study also highlights that the most important aspects of cycling infrastructure was segregation from traffic, clear signage and sightseeing information.

3.3 National Policy Context

3.3.1 Strategy for the Future Development of National and Regional Greenways

The Strategy for the Future Development of National and Regional Greenways issued in July 2018 was prepared by DTTAS on behalf of the Government of Ireland. The objective of this Strategy is to assist in the strategic development of National and Regional Greenways in appropriate locations, constructed to an appropriate standard, in order to deliver a quality experience for all Greenway users. Over the next 10 years, the strategy aims to increase the number and geographical spread of Greenways around the country, to be utilised as a visitor experience and recreational amenity.

The focus of the strategy is on the potential of Greenways and cycle tourism to act as economic drivers in local areas by capitalising on the great tourism potential, that was identified by the market research carried out by Fáilte Ireland. To achieve these objectives, the DDTaS are to ensure that project promoters will work with Local Communities, Local Landowners, Local Authorities and other relevant State Bodies and organisations to deliver:

1. A Strategic Greenway network of national and regional routes, with several high capacity flagship routes that can be extended and/or link with local Greenways and other cycling and walking infrastructure;

2. Greenways of scale and appropriate standard that have significant potential to deliver an increase in activity tourism to Ireland and are regularly used by overseas visitors, domestic visitors and locals thereby contributing to a healthier society through increased physical activity;

3. Greenways that provide a substantially segregated off road experience linking places of interest, recreation and leisure in areas with beautiful scenery of different types with plenty to see and do;

4. Greenways that provide opportunities for the development of local businesses and economies; and

5. Greenways that are developed with all relevant stakeholders in line with an agreed code of practice.

The Galway to Athlone Cycleway is a high capacity flagship route with the potential to appeal to overseas and domestic visitors as well as locals. The area between Galway and Athlone offers attractive scenery and plenty to see and do. There also appears to be plenty of scope for the development of local tourism-based industry in the area.

The strategy recommends that the preferred model is for future Greenways to use lands already available in the undisputed ownership or control of the State, either through Government Agencies, Government Departments or Local Authorities.

As there are limited opportunities to use land in State ownership within the Galway to Athlone area for Greenways, the route will be required to traverse land that is in private ownership. The strategy outlines that where Greenways are planned in areas of private land, they should be designed to traverse field boundaries and hedge lines, to avoid severance where possible. It is essential that proposals and routes are developed in a consultative and proactive manner with the affected landowners, that is sensitive to their needs, that maximises their support for, and goodwill towards the proposed Greenway.

3.3.2 National Cycle Policy Framework (2009-2020)

The National Cycle Policy Framework was prepared by Smarter Travel and commissioned in 2009 by the Minister for Transport. The vision of this Framework is to "create a strong cycling culture in Ireland". It sets out objectives and actions aimed to ensure the development of a cycling culture where 10% of all journeys in Ireland will be by bike. A specific objective of this Framework is for the provision of designated rural cycle facilities, especially for tourist and recreational cycling.

The Framework identifies the need for inter urban cycling routes in the form of a National Cycling Network that delivers high quality routes to encourage cycling for transport, leisure and recreational purposes. This policy recommends that cycle friendly planning principles are to be incorporated into all national, regional and local plans.

3.3.3 National Cycle Network Scoping Study

This scoping study was prepared by Smarter Travel and commissioned in 2010 by the Minister for Transport, following the specific objectives outlined in the National Cycle Policy Framework. An advisory group was set up for this study with members from local authorities, Fáilte Ireland, NTA, OPW and Coillte, in order to agree a vision for the National Cycle Network. The vision identified by this advisory group was to:

"Develop a National Cycle Network that will allow users to cycle between the main urban areas throughout the country. The network will be built to best practice standard, follow routes that maximise the number of potential users and its attractiveness to users, facilitate access for all, and ensure that short and long trips can be engaged in. The routes will, where possible, avail of existing routes and State-owned lands, share use with walking and form the basis for linkages to more comprehensive rural and urban local networks".

The Study identified an overall framework for the delivery of some 2,000km of high-quality cycle corridors, divided into 13 potential route corridors between urban areas with a population of over 10,000. Key urban areas for inclusion on the proposed cycle route between Galway and Dublin include Athlone, Ballinasloe and Oranmore. These routes are intended to provide a skeleton for National Cycleways to be developed along with potential links between these corridors, particularly where existing infrastructure allows cost effective delivery.

The study was superseded in 2018 with the publication of the Greenway Strategy.

3.3.4 Fáilte Ireland Strategy for the development of Irish Cycle Tourism

Fáilte Ireland's Strategy for the Development of Irish Cycle Tourism was produced in 2007 and observed that cycle tourism had been in decline since 2000 in Ireland. Research conducted as part of this Strategy found that cycling on Irish roads is not perceived to be safe, particularly where cyclists face dangerous bends, fast cars, intimidating HGVs, high traffic volumes and high speeds.

The Strategy identified the following needs for cycle tourists:

- Safe places to cycle and consideration from other road users;
- Attractive routes with good scenery;
- Well-connected and signposted routes and destinations avoiding long detours;
- Opportunities to visit local attractions and specific places of interest;
- Food, accommodation and refreshments available at intervals, which reflect comfortable distances for stopping off / overnight stops;
- Accessible maintenance and repair facilities;

- Routes to be promoted on maps and websites including route planner facility; and

- Easy access to alternative cycle-friendly modes of transport.

As part of the Strategy, it is stated that "of particular significance is the need to address the imbalance in the development of the visitor economy and the associated need to engage in long-term planning for the development of rural areas". This highlights that the development of cycle tourism presents an opportunity to bring the economic benefits of tourism to rural areas of Ireland.

The area between Galway and Athlone is generally rural, and currently does not receive an inordinate number of visitors. It would seem well matched with the general principle of balancing the visitor economy and promoting the development of rural areas and business opportunities for people in these areas.

3.3.5 National Planning Policy Framework

The National Planning Framework (2018) prepared by Rialtas na hÉireann is the Government's plan to cater for the extra one million people that will be living in Ireland, the additional two thirds of a million people working in Ireland and the half a million extra homes needed in Ireland by 2040.

The Framework focuses on:

- Growing our regions, their cities, towns, and villages and rural fabric;
- Using state lands for certain strategic purposes; and
- Better outcomes for communities and the environment, through more effective and coordinated planning, investment and delivery.

As a strategic development framework, Ireland 2040 - Our Plan sets the long-term context for our country's physical development and associated progress in economic, social and environmental terms and in an island, European and global context.

The vision for Ireland in 2040 is:

- For the highest possible quality of life for people and communities, underpinned by high quality, well managed built and natural environments; and
- Sustainable self-reliance based on a strong circular economy and significant progress towards a low carbon, climate-resilient society while remaining an open, competitive and trading economy.

Some relevant National Policy Objectives in support of the proposed Cycleway include:

- National Policy Objective 16 - Target the reversal of rural decline in the core of small towns and villages through sustainable targeted measures that address vacancy and deliver sustainable reuse and regeneration outcomes;

- National Policy Objective 21 - Enhance the competitiveness of rural areas by supporting innovation in rural economic development and enterprise through the sustainable diversification of the rural economy into new sectors and in particular those with a low or zero carbon output;

- National Policy Objective 22 - Facilitate the development of National Greenways / Blueway's and Peatways Strategy which prioritises projects on the basis of achieving maximum impact and connectivity at national and regional level; and

- National Policy Objective 27 - Ensure the integration of safe and convenient alternatives to the car into the design of our communities, by prioritising walking and cycling accessibility to both existing and proposed developments and integrating physical activity facilities for all ages.

3.4 Regional Policy Context

3.4.1 Northern and Western Regional Assembly Regional Spatial and Economic Strategy (2020)

The Northern and Western Regional Assembly made the first Regional Spatial and Economic Strategy (RSES) for the Northern and Western Region in January 2020. The Northern and Western Region includes all of Counties Galway and Roscommon.

The RSES supports the provision of the Dublin to Galway Greenway, and also an Oranmore-Galway-Bearna greenway, through its specific objectives, as follows:

> RPO 3.6.13 The Assembly supports the delivery of a strategic Greenway Network for the GTS to include National Dublin to Galway Cycleway, Oranmore to Bearna Coastal Greenway and the Galway to Clifden Greenway (S/M)
> RPO 3.7.4 Support the development of a cross-sectoral approach to promote Athlone as a key tourism destination in the Midlands, building on Fáilte Ireland's Hidden Heartlands brand and the forthcoming Shannon Tourism Masterplan to develop the recreation and amenity potential of waterways including the River Shannon and Lough Ree and the development of a greenway network including the Galway to Dublin Cycleway.

The RSES addresses tourism in detail and provides a Tourism Strategy. Key elements are listed as:

> A tiered hierarchy of Tourism provisions in both rural and urban areas, to support the sustainable development of 'Destination Towns', following Fáilte Ireland's Development Guidelines for Destination Towns.
>
> Additional tourist supporting leisure and amenity infrastructure in the areas of recreation, entertainment, culture, catering, accommodation, transport and water services.
>
> Explore shared provision of access, parking, public transport to designated key rural sites for target activities (e.g. walking, cycling, water sports and golf).
>
> Make the best use of locally distinctive cultural attributes, bringing a unique visitor experience (language, music, crafts, arts, food).
>
> New proposals for activity tourism, particularly in rural areas, National Park's, uplands, coasts and rivers.
>
> Proposals for county-based monitoring and management structures. This will allow for the identification of threats/effects on popular sites, and mitigation where necessary.

Specific tourism objectives are set out in The RSES for the 'Hidden Heartlands' as follows:

> RPO 4.12 Develop the water-based leisure sector in the region in a sustainable manner making the best use of existing and planned infrastructure and resources, in a manner that is sensitive to the natural and cultural heritage resources.
>
> RPO 4.13 The Assembly supports the implementation of the Shannon Tourism Masterplan and the securing of adequate resources and investment to achieve this.
> RPO 4.14 Promote the development of integrated walking, cycling and bridle routes throughout the Region as an activity for both international visitors and local tourists in a manner that is compatible with nature conservation and other environmental policies.

RPO 4.10 To ensure Orientation and Information Points targeted at 'Slow Tourism' market is provided at key Towns, such as Carrick on Shannon, Athlone, and Ballinasloe as an enabler for increasing bed-nights, and visitor numbers.

RPO 4.11 To upgrade Public Transport infrastructural facilities in Destination Towns, including the provision of Transport Hubs/Links, and additional accommodation.

The Galway to Athlone cycleway is a good strategic fit to these objectives and strategy.

3.5 Local Policy Context

3.5.1 Galway County Development Plan

The Galway County Development Plan (2015-2021) outlines policies to develop its recreation and amenity base to increase tourism potential. Economic Tourism and Development Objective 14 aims to support the provision of tourism infrastructure through the support of Greenway amenities.

The Plan also highlights its support to develop "the National Cycle Route between Dublin, Ballinasloe, Galway City and Clifden along a mostly offline route".

3.5.2 Roscommon County Development Plan

The Roscommon County Development Plan (2014-2020) highlights policies and objectives that encourage local investment in safe cycleways, secure parking for bicycles and rented bicycles in the vicinity of existing developments.

Policy 4.10 and Objective 4.21 of the Plan specifically outlines the support and provision of a Cycleway through south Roscommon as part of the Galway to Dublin Cycleway Scheme. The plan also promotes via the developmental management process that proposed public offices and commercial developments provide bicycle parking along with showering facilities for cyclists (Objective 4.15).

It was noted that the plan emphasises on the modal shift required to alternative means of travel such as public transport, cycling and walking, presents significant challenges at local levels in rural counties such as Roscommon.

3.5.3 Westmeath County Development Plan

The Westmeath County Development Plan (2014-2020) highlights policies and objectives that promote walking and cycling routes as sustainable modes of transport (Objective P-TR2 & P-WC1).

The plan supports the provision of a Cycleway between Mullingar and Athlone, as part of the National Cycleway Network (Objective P-WC2 & P-WC6) and wishes to further the development of an integrated cycle network in Athlone (O-WC1 & O-WC4).

It was noted that the new draft Westmeath County Development Plan (2021-2027) also supports the development of the Galway to Dublin Cycleway through Athlone (CPO 5.14) as a key tourist destination in the midlands.

3.5.4 Athlone Town Development Plan

The Athlone Town Development Plan (2014-2020) highlights policies and objectives that support the provision of a cycleway and walkway in Athlone (P-WC7). It is an objective of this plan to provide a new pedestrian and cycleway bridge across the River Shannon, in conjunction with the development of the Dublin Galway National Cycle Network (O-WC15).

3.5.5 Offaly County Development Plan

The Offaly Development Plan (2014-2020) was reviewed due to the potential corridor connection to Shannonbridge located within the area for the scheme. This Plan includes policies to provide cycleways and walkways as part of new developments.

It also further investigates the potential development of trails within County Offaly to include a mixture of walking and cycling, along with the provision of adequate services along these trails.

3.5.6 Galway City Development Plan

The Galway City Development Plan (2017–2023) highlights that there is “now a demand for coastal and recreation facilities on the east side of the city”. The plan aims to “ensure the reservation of a substantial bank of land for recreational purposes” and for potential future “coastal walks to Oranmore”.

There are a number of specific objectives contained within the Plan in relation to an improved cycle network and developing a strategic coastal Greenway from east to west linking the riverside walkways (Policy 3.6 & 4.5.1).

The Plan also includes reference to the Oranmore to City Centre Greenway connecting with the Galway to Dublin Cycleway, as shown in Figure 3.2 below.

3.6 Specific Tourism Initiatives

Fáilte Ireland have developed a number of regional tourism brands, as shown in Figure 3.3 below, presenting four distinct tourist offerings: Dublin; Ireland's Ancient East; Ireland's Hidden Heartland; and the Wild Atlantic Way.

These brands are used to promote and market tourism in the regions both nationally and internationally. The brands capitalise on the particular strengths and attractions of the regions.

3.6.1 Wild Atlantic Way Region

The Wild Atlantic Way is one of Fáilte Ireland's signature projects to rejuvenate Irish tourism. The brand encompasses the entire west coast of Ireland. The brandings goals are to

- assist in increasing visitor numbers, dwell time, spend and satisfaction along all parts of the route
- re-package the Atlantic seaboard as a destination to overseas and domestic visitors
- improve linkages between, and add value to, a range of attractions and activities
- improve on-road and on-trail interpretation, infrastructure and signage along and around the route

  direct visitors to less-visited areas
- …assist businesses, agencies, local groups and other stakeholders along the area to work together
- reinforce the particular strengths and characteristics of all of the areas located along the west coast, while offering the visitor one compelling reason to visit

The western section of the Galway to Athlone route will be within the Wild Atlantic Way region. It will help in achieving these goals, in particular by providing an attractive tourism product in the Galway area, linking well with the other cycling destinations, and directing visitors away from the more heavily visited areas directly on the coast.

3.6.2 Irelands Hidden Heartlands

Fáilte Ireland's brand destination 'Ireland Hidden Heartlands' presents significant opportunities for counties Roscommon, Leitrim, west Cavan and east Galway rebranding the midlands as 'Ireland's Hidden Heartlands' as a way to boost tourism in the area. The area extends beyond the northern and western region into County Longford and parts of counties Westmeath, North Tipperary and Offaly.

The River Shannon will be a central focus of the brand, and a 'Shannon Masterplan' is proposed to focus tourism concentration on and around the river and in surrounding towns. It will focus on the River Shannon; the development of new food networks and trails and the creation of new walking hubs are part of the campaign to attract a larger number of visitors. The plan is to entice visitors with the area's walkways and lakes, and the campaign will promote activities like walking, cycling, fishing and boating.

It is expected that the Galway to Athlone cycleway will be able to help achieve these objectives and integrate well into the overall tourism plan for the region.

3.6.3 Shannon Masterplan

The draft Shannon Masterplan (2020), led by Waterways Ireland, sets out an integrated framework for sustainable tourism development along the Shannon to promote it as a compelling tourism destination within Ireland's Hidden Heartlands. This plan considers strategic connectivity with the Galway to Dublin National Cycleway as an exceptional opportunity for visitors to be active in nature.

Indicative trails highlighted for development by this Masterplan include a cycle route from Athlone to Shannonbridge which may also form part of the Galway to Dublin National Cycleway.

3.7 Conclusion

This scheme is well supported by policies at all levels. Tourism is strongly emphasised as a source for economic development in the region. Internationally there is now an ever growing need to support more sustainable forms of transport and tourism, that contribute to the reduction of emissions and combat climate change.

Policy makers in Ireland and Europe are providing strong support towards cycle tourism. The policies and plans outlined above aim to:

- Increase popularity of cycling in Ireland;
- Contribute to a healthier society through increased physical activity;
- Provide substantially segregated off road cycling experiences linking places of interest;
- Develop some 2,000km of high-quality cycle corridors that form a National Cycling Network;
- Improve infrastructure for recreational cycling through greater capital funding into the tourism sector;
- Use existing or disused suitable infrastructure and public lands, where possible in the development of Greenways;
- Consult in a proactive manner with landowners to maximise their support for, and goodwill towards the proposed Greenway;
- Provide opportunities for the development of local businesses and economies through an increase in active tourism, particularly in rural Ireland; and
- Establish Ireland as a premier destination for recreational tourism globally, while contributing towards the Eurovelo network of long-distance transnational cycling routes.

4 SCOPE, CONSTRAINTS AND INTERFACES

4.1 Scope of the Project

This scheme forms part of the Galway to Dublin Cycleway that will be an entirely traffic free route designed exclusively for the use of pedestrians and cyclists. The Galway to Athlone section will commence at Ballyloughane Strand on the east side of Galway City and end at Athlone Castle in County Westmeath.

The Cycleway will be low key in its nature and have a low impact on the landscape. It will consist of a suitable pathway of adequate width that will use public land and follow natural topography where possible.

The preliminary geographical area for examination is large enough to include all reasonable route options for consideration between Galway and Athlone. The area in question, shown in Figure 4.1 below, ideally should not be exceeded without compromising the directness and length of the route. This is based on the maximum desired scale of the Cycleway (see section 4.2.3), identified through international market research, and the desire to connect to larger towns at reasonable intervals.

The area extends from the west side of Ballyloughane Strand along the coastline of Galway Bay to just west of the Shannon River in Athlone. The most southern extremity extends to Lough Derg to capture available amenities and recreational facilities offered in Portumna. The most northern point extends as far as Tuam for consideration.

It is considered that a route from Galway to Athlone should use Ballinasloe as a common service centre. This is recommended by studies to connect large urban centres and Ballinasloe is the next largest urban centre within the area behind Athlone and Galway. The Galway County Development Plan also supports development of “the National Cycle Route between Dublin and Galway City’’ through Ballinasloe.

4.2 Constraints

Constraints to the development of the scheme relate to both the natural and human environment. These serve to inform the selection of a suitable corridor.

The natural constraints within the scheme area include the topography, waterways and important ecological sites that pose a constraint in terms of their protection and their sensitivity to disturbance. The human environment constraints include agricultural activities, land ownership, Archaeology, Architecture and Cultural Heritage amongst others.

The Cycleway will be unobtrusive in its nature and have a low impact on the landscape. It will use public land and follow natural topography where possible. It will have limited cuttings and embankments, unlike a road or railway which have demanding geometric design constraints.

4.2.1 Landownership / Farming

The preferred model is for future Cycleways to use lands already available in the undisputed ownership or control of the State, either through Government Agencies, Government Departments or Local Authorities. The advantage of this includes certainty of permanent unrestricted access, clarity in relation to liability for any insurance claims and certainty of responsibility for maintenance and upkeep. The National Cycle Network map of existing cycle routes, public lands and infrastructure of potential value to the scheme is shown in Figure 4.2 below.

There is limited public land available within the Galway to Athlone area, suitable for the construction of a Cycleway. The proposed Cycleway will be required to traverse land that is in private ownership. The majority of private land for consideration is currently used for agricultural purposes.

In areas of private land, the Cycleway will be designed to follow field boundaries and hedge lines, to avoid severance where possible along with houses and farmyards. As the geometry of a Cycleway can be relatively flexible, agricultural impacts can be much less severe than impacts from road projects, for example. The footprint of land needed for the Cycleway is also likely to be comparatively small.

It is essential that proposals and routes are developed in a consultative and proactive manner with the potentially affected landowners, that is sensitive to their needs, and that maximises their support for, and goodwill towards the proposed Cycleway. A diverse range of concerns raised by 567 Irish farmers in a recent study on routing of Cycleways, are summarised in Table 4.1 below.

Issue of Concern	Primary Concern	Secondary Concern	Tertiary Concern
Insurance	200	123	80
Farm Operations	166	105	90
Nuisance	85	115	111
Crime	80	119	84
Privacy	19	43	83
Planning	18	32	56
Other	6	3	1

Table 4.1 – Survey results of 567 Farmers Concerns with respect to Greenways (E. McGurk et al)

Some aspects of Landownership may provide opportunities for development of the Cycleway. Bord na Móna owns very large tracts of land in the study area. From 2020, an accelerated 'Exit from Peat' is planned by the government, involving an extensive Bord na Móna bog rehabilitation program. This program will rehabilitate 77,000 hectares of bogs used for harvesting peat for electricity generation to a high standard, which may present additional lands for consideration in this Scheme.

The Strategic Framework for The Future use of Peatlands (BnM 2016) states that 'Recreation and tourism have long been seen as viable activities with which to diversify the rural economy and to create additional employment. The potential of cutaway peatland as recreation and tourism attractions has been recognised'.

4.2.2 ‘Lots to see and do’

Future Greenways are required to link places of interest and promote recreation in areas that have beautiful scenery with plenty to see and do. Fáilte Ireland’s research also indicates that visitors cycling while on holidays want their cycling routes to be scenic and have lots of other things to see and do. A Cycleway should also have towns or villages along it, with good visitor facilities, including restaurants, accommodation and attractions.

The Galway to Athlone corridor contains a rich cultural landscape offering a variety of amenities and attractions, with lots to see and do. Galway City and Athlone are both strong tourist destinations. Their rural hinterland is characterised by attractive if unspectacular scenery, generally small farmsteads, dispersed rural dwellings and historic market towns.

The ancient monastic site of Clonmacnoise is a major attraction in the region. It is an unparalleled and outstanding example of a relict early medieval insular monastic city unobscured by modern building development. Currently on the tentative list for UNESCO World Heritage Sites, it is set within a superlative semi-natural landscape that deepens it spiritual qualities, adding greatly to its authenticity and integrity.

Other areas of interest include the Battle of Aughrim Site, Oranmore Castle, Athenry Norman Castle, Coole Park, Portumna Castle, the historic bridge at Shannonbridge, Athlone Castle and the River Shannon. The Shannon system is the principal water body in the area where leisure ferry services could add value to the scheme. The river is an important mixed fishery with both game and course angling opportunities.

4.2.3 Length

The Target Cycling Market survey conducted by Fáilte Ireland indicates that the length of the Cycleway is very important in attracting international cycling tourists. Cyclists will typically wish to partake in a weeklong holiday. The minimum length required for a cycle route to be marketable internationally is 200 km. Ideally a route should be no longer than 300 km. The route from Dublin to Athlone is approximately 130km long. The Galway to Athlone section should ideally be around 120km long to give an overall length of 250km.

If a longer route is necessary to link with any significant attractions, then this will be considered. However, a relatively direct route from Galway to Athlone is preferred unless there is a compelling reason to do otherwise. A direct route will have a lower environmental impact, lower cost and is likely to impact on fewer private landowners.

The route should have reasonable distances between towns and places of interest. This will ensure that both short and long trips can be catered for.

4.2.4 Ecology

4.2.4.1 Designated Sites and Protected Areas

Special Areas of Conservation (SAC), Special Protection Areas (SPA), Natural Heritage Areas (NHA) and Proposed Natural Heritage Areas (pNHA) are present within the scheme area, as shown in Figure 4.3 below. These sites include the River Shannon Callows, Rahasane Turlough, Monivea Bog, Slieve Aughty Bog and Galway Bay.

The designated areas can act as attractions due to their ecological features.

A Cycleway close to these sites must be implemented sensitively to protect these natural habitats, particularly at any crossing or interaction points, especially at protected waterbodies.

4.2.5 Archaeology, Architecture & Cultural Heritage

The scheme area offers an abundance of interesting Archaeological, Architectural and Cultural Heritage experiences. The archaeological sites are very diverse providing ample opportunities for visiting historic sites and monuments such as burial mounds or standing structures. The more significant archaeological sites and monuments within the area include Oranmore Castle, Kilcornan House, Athenry Norman Castle, Dunguaire Castle, the Battle of Aughrim Centre, Portumna Castle, Athlone Castle and the monastery at Clonmacnoise.

Significant elements of Architectural Heritage are mainly concentrated within towns and villages where protected structures are predominantly sited. Some can also be seen dispersed across the rural landscape including cottages, farm buildings, churches, schools and other types of buildings. Architectural Conservation Areas within the area include the town centres of Oranmore, Clarinbridge, Athenry, Craughwell, Loughrea, Ballinasloe, Tuam, Gort, Portumna and Athlone.

A strong cultural heritage is evident within the area through the population's identity and expression of traditions. This is shown through annual events such as the Clarinbridge Oyster Festival and the Ballinasloe horse fair. Galway City and County are hosting the European Capital of Culture for 2020. This is a year that will see an extraordinary showcase of events highlighting the richness and diversity of Galway's culture.

Other large events include the world-renowned Galway Racing Summer Festival. This is one of the biggest horse race meetings in the world that boasts superb hospitality, entertainment, fashion and an electric atmosphere that attracts visitor from Ireland and abroad. Such annual events and festivals can offer a unique opportunity for Greenway users to engage directly with the local population in the area.

4.2.6 Topography

The topography of the area is relatively low lying and flat, with the majority of land cover consisting of farmland and peat bog. High ground is located to the east of Loughrea, just south of the R446 (old N6). The Slieve Aughty Mountains south of Loughrea are close by. The Esker Riada runs from near Clonmacnoise to the sea, south of Galway City.

The proposed Cycleway will have few cuttings and embankments, unlike a road or railway which have demanding geometric design constraints. It is considered that the topography of this area will ideally suitable for leisure cycling.

4.3 Interface

The Cycleway is expected to interact with existing and proposed infrastructure. In relation to the existing road network, the M6 Motorway and the R446 (old N6) along with other Regional and Local Roads could cause some significant constraints for the Cycleway.

There are currently good public transport links between the large towns with Oranmore, Athenry, Craughwell, Gort and Ballinasloe serviced by both bus and rail links. Additionally, there is good bus links to other large towns such as Loughrea, Tuam and Portumna. However, there is also limited bus services to smaller villages within the area, along with no rail service.

The interface and transition of the Cycleway in the vicinity of town or villages will need careful consideration to avoid any conflict between Greenway users and motorists. Any crossings of the active rail lines between Galway and Athlone and between Athenry and Limerick would be significant constraints. The Cycleway is also expected to link with the existing Green Heartlands Cycle Route in county Roscommon.

The National Cycle Network Scoping Study calls for other cycleways in the area. These include the Connemara Greenway connecting Galway to Clifden, the Galway to Tralee corridor and the Limerick to Carrick-on-Shannon corridor passing through Athlone. It will be desirable to eventually link these and the Galway Dublin Cycleway cycleways together. The Galway to Athlone Cycleway will connect to the Old Rail Trail Athlone to Mullingar Cycleway through a new Shannon Cycle Bridge in Athlone. The project under consideration in this brief terminates at Ballyloughane, in the suburbs of Galway. A further link from Ballyloughane to Eyre Square is planned as a separate project.

5 SCHEME OBJECTIVES

5.1 Overview

This section of the report sets out the objectives for the Cycleway. Based on the deficiencies of the existing network for cyclists, as outlined in Section 3 and responding to the aspirations of European, National and Local Policy as outlined in Section 2, a series of defined objectives have been developed and are presented in the following sections. The objectives have been prepared using the framework of the Greenway Strategy, and the Common Appraisal Framework.

5.1 Greenway Strategy Objectives

The scheme will take cognisance of the 5 'S' criteria set out by the Government of Ireland for developing Greenways, i.e. the route should be Scenic; Sustainable; Strategic; with lots to See and Do; and Substantially Segregated with Shared use. Requirements for these five criteria are detailed below:

5.1.1 Scenic

The Galway to Athlone corridor has many scenic locations that can provide the type of memorable experience cycling and walking tourists look for. While the area is generally low lying, there are some elevated areas, that offer scenic views across the landscape. These high points among some others could be established as scenic focal points with the development of potential viewing platforms that add value to the Greenway.

Away from specific viewpoints, the area is characterised by pleasant if unspectacular scenery of green rolling countryside and low intensity agricultural landscapes.

It will be an objective in the planning of the Galway to Athlone Cycleway to route through the more scenic areas where possible, while also providing a variety of landscapes for the user.

5.1.2 Sustainable

This Greenway is to provide opportunities for the development of local businesses and economies in the area. It will promote cycle tourism which has a reputation of being eco-friendly and sustainable. There is also a growing need to provide forms of tourism that contribute to a reduction of carbon and transport emissions and promote the healthy lifestyles that this Greenway can offer.

It will be an objective in the planning of the Galway to Athlone Cycleway to ensure that construction and operation of the Cycleway is carried out in a sustainable manner.

5.1.3 Strategic

This scheme will form part of a strategic network of Greenways that connect main urban centres. It will have links to other existing and future Greenways, along with connections to existing cycling and walking infrastructure., It will connect to the existing Athlone to Maynooth Greenway to form part of a longer strategic route that will eventually connect Galway to Dublin, and will facilitate the Eurovelo Capitals route .It will also connect to the Atlantic Route cycleway. This Greenway developed from the west coast of Ireland to the east will greatly enhance tourist activities for international and domestic visitors, delivering strategic opportunities for local economies.

It will be an objective in the planning of the Galway to Athlone Cycleway to link effectively to other tourist and transport facilities.

5.1.4 Offer Lots to See and Do

The Galway to Athlone area has towns with good visitor facilities including restaurants, accommodation and attractions. Connecting these facilities along with other attractions in more rural areas (Section 4.2.2) will ensure the Greenway offers its users lots to see and do.

It will be an objective in the planning of the Galway to Athlone Cycleway to route through areas that are well served by existing facilities, while also considering that such facilities can also develop organically following the establishment of the cycleway.

5.1.5 Substantially Segregated & Shared Use

Under this strategy, Greenways must be substantially segregated from vehicular traffic. This requirement is key to providing a good quality of service that ensures Greenway users have a safe and enjoyable experience. The provision of segregated facilities is key to attracting international cyclists to Ireland. It is also essential to compete with other international Greenways that are established as premier cycle holiday destinations.

It will be an objective in the planning of the Galway to Athlone Cycleway to provide a fully segregated cycle route. However, it is recognised that it may be impractical to achieve full segregation over the entire route length, especially in more urban areas.

5.2 Common Appraisal Framework Criteria

The framing of scheme objectives has been undertaken in accordance with the guidance provided in the TII Project Appraisal Guidelines (PAG Unit 3.0: Project Brief). This recommends that scheme objectives are established which fall under the criteria included in the Common Appraisal Framework, which are:

- Economy;
- Safety;
- Physical Activity;
- Environment;
- Accessibility & Social Inclusion; and
- Integration.

These criteria in the context of the Cycleway are briefly discussed below. The objectives that follow from the Greenway Strategy, as described in 5.1 above, are listed again in this section, under the most appropriate heading, and shown in bold.

5.2.1 Economy

The Cycleway will facilitate the Eurovelo Network of long-distance cycling and the National Cycle Network in Ireland. These networks aim to promote cycle tourism and act as economic drivers in local areas, by capitalising on the great tourism potential that these cycling networks can offer.

The value of cycle tourism in Europe is approximately €54 bn per year, with longer distance cycle tourists generally spending on average €353 each per trip and day trip cyclists spending €16 per day (Lumsdon et al., 2009).

According to Fáilte Ireland figures from 2018, 450,000 visitors cycled while on holiday in Ireland, making it the second largest tourist activity after walking. It is projected that these figures will grow by 4% per annum to 2028.

The Cycleway will have beneficial impacts as it will attract people to the area. This will have a ripple effect for tourism businesses including hotels, restaurants, shops, cafés, etc. In order to achieve these benefits, it is necessary to attract the prospective users to the Cycleway in the first place. Meeting the Greenway Strategy objectives described above is fundamental to ensuring these users choose to visit the Cycleway rather than the many other recreational opportunities elsewhere in Europe and beyond. It follows that many of the Greenway strategy objectives can also be classed as economic objectives.

Key economic objectives are:

EC1 – To increase the economic contribution of tourism to the Irish economy, by increasing the numbers of international visitors to the area and delivering a cycleway that is attractive by international standards;

This can be achieved by:

- Routing the Cycleway though the more scenic areas where possible, while also providing a variety of landscapes for users;
- Routing the Cycleway though areas that are well served by existing facilities, while also considering that such facilities can also develop organically following the establishment of the Cycleway; and
- Providing a fully segregated cycle route which caters for low speed, family-oriented cycling activities, with short daily distances, and lots of tourism activities along the way each day However, it is recognised that it may be impractical to achieve full segregation over the entire route length, especially in more urban areas.

EC2 - To create local employment opportunities and wealth through new and expanded enterprises;

EC3 - To deliver the Cycleway in a cost-effective manner and deliver real value for money; and

EC4 - To encourage modal change to non-motorised travel modes, thereby reducing congestion and delivering travel time savings.

5.2.2 Safety

The key safety objectives are:

S1 - To provide a walking and cycling route that is segregated from motorised traffic (recognising that it may be impractical to achieve full segregation over the entire route length, especially in more urban areas);

S2 - To provide a sense of security for Cycleway users, e.g. through provision of secure bike parking facilities and public lighting (where needed); and

S3 - To provide a high level of operational safety on the cycleway through high quality design, construction and maintenance.

5.2.3 Physical Activity

This project will encourage activities such as walking and cycling, which will improve the physical health and wellbeing of Greenway users. Increasing the levels of walking and cycling are widely regarded as beneficial because of the improvements in public health, as a result of the increased levels of physical activity.

According to the Health Service Executive (HSE), regular physical activity is key to getting healthy and staying healthy. Working lives are growing more likely to be inactive as technology advances and use of motorised forms of transport increases. Physical activity has significant health benefits which helps to prevent cardiovascular diseases, cancer and diabetes.

The physical activity objectives are:

PA1 - To increase the number of commuters within the study area who walk or cycle to work or education; and

PA2 - To increase the number of people in Ireland who choose to take part in physically active outdoor recreation and leisure activities.

5.2.4 Environment

This project is to be designed to consider, and avoid where necessary, the sensitivities of the natural, agricultural and human environment. It is to be planned and constructed in compliance with the requirements of Irish and European law including, but not limited to, EU Directive 2014/52/EU.

Key environmental objectives are:

EN1 - To minimise damage to the natural environment and cultural heritage sites, especially habitat in ecologically sensitive areas;

EN2 - To increase public appreciation of the natural environment and cultural heritage, by encouraging people to experience the countryside;

EN3 - To minimise land holding severance;

EN4 - To reduce air and noise pollution by getting people to cycle or walk rather than drive; and

EN5 - To ensure that planning, construction and operation of the Cycleway is carried out in a sustainable manner.

5.2.5 Accessibility & Social Inclusion

The scheme has potential to create positive benefits for accessibility and social inclusion within the area. The Galway to Athlone Cycleway will provide key linkage to various communities, giving access for vulnerable road users and locals alike.

The development of open spaces within the area will offer a sense of place and encourage inclusiveness by reducing vehicular dominance, which can disrupt communities along busy routes. Facilitating local amenities such as coffee shops, pubs, restaurants and bike rental shops will promote community inclusion.

Key Accessibility and Social Inclusion objectives are:

ASI1 - To be attractive to people of all age groups and abilities, with multiple accesses to the route allowing use for long or short distances; and ASI2 - To benefit local communities through enhancing existing amenities and providing new linkages to adjacent town and village centres.

5.2.6 Integration

The proposed scheme is required to integrate with general policies and plans. The following objectives are outlined for integration:

I1 - To link to other existing and proposed Cycleways within the area;

I2 - To be accessible to users arriving by public transport, including bus, rail, and existing or proposed passenger boat services; and

I3 - To connect to other tourist activities or attractions within the area, such as historic and cultural heritage sites, waterway activities and the Wild Atlantic Way.

6 FUNCTION AND OPERATIONAL OUTCOMES

6.1 Design Standards

TII Rural Cycleway Design (DN-GEO-03047) Standard and the NTA National Cycle Manual outlines design standards for cycle facilities that need to be considered for both rural and urban areas. The main principles within the TII and NTA standards are in line with the Eurovelo standards in relation to the provision of safe, coherent, direct, convenient, comfortable, attractive and accessible facilitates. The scheme is to adhere to these standards when determining parameters such as Cycleway widths, gradients and design speeds. However, carefully judged deviations may be permitted, particularly in constrained areas, where it is judged that the performance of the Cycleway would not be reduced.

6.2 Performance Targets

The Performance Targets relate to objectives that can be easily measured. Not all the objectives set out in Section 5 of this report are amenable to reliable and accurate measurement.

The key Performance Targets for the Galway to Athlone Castle National Cycleway are:

PT1 - To achieve maximum buy in from landowners in Counties Galway, Roscommon, Offaly and Westmeath;

PT2 - To deliver the Cycleway in a cost-effective manner and deliver real value for money;

PT3 - To attract 70,000 Irish leisure users and 40,000 overseas users per year, 5 years after completion;

PT4 - To be supported by the communities, towns and villages connected to the route selected; and

PT5 – To generate new business opportunities for towns, villages and rural dwellers.
